PLACES COVERED

Haridwar

Haridwar is one of India's most revered pilgrimage destinations and serves as the gateway to the sacred River Ganges. After descending from the Himalayas, the Ganga enters the plains for the first time at Haridwar, giving it the ancient name Gangadwāra. The city is one of the Sapta Puri—the seven holiest places in Hinduism—and attracts millions of devotees, especially during the Kumbh Mela. Spiritual highlights include Har Ki Pauri, where the mesmerizing Ganga Aarti takes place every evening, and the sacred Brahma Kund. Haridwar is known for its temples, ghats, yoga centres, and a serene spiritual atmosphere.

Rishikesh

Rishikesh, popularly known as the “Yoga Capital of the World,” is a tranquil town located on the banks of the Ganges. Surrounded by hills and dotted with ancient temples and ashrams, it is one of the major gateways to the Char Dham Yatra. The iconic suspension bridges— Janki Setu and Ram Jhula—are major landmarks connecting the town’s spiritual and cultural centres. Rishikesh is also famous for adventure activities such as river rafting, trekking, and camping, offering a perfect blend of spirituality and nature.

Guptkashi

Guptkashi is a sacred town located on the route to Kedarnath and is renowned for the ancient Vishwanath Temple, dedicated to Lord Shiva. According to mythology, the Pandavas sought forgiveness from Lord Shiva here before their final ascent to the Himalayas. The town also houses the Ardhnarishwar Temple, symbolizing the unity of Shiva and Shakti. Set amidst lush greenery and snow-capped peaks, Guptkashi offers a serene atmosphere for devotees and travellers.

Rampur

Rampur is a small, peaceful settlement typically used as a transit point for travellers moving towards higher Himalayan shrines. Surrounded by natural greenery, terraced fields, and mountain views, Rampur offers a refreshing break during long journeys. While not a major pilgrimage site, it provides a calm environment, local culture, and necessary travel conveniences.

Kedarnath

Kedarnath, one of the twelve Jyotirlingas of Lord Shiva, is among the most significant pilgrimage sites in India. Situated at an altitude of 3,583 metres in the majestic Garhwal Himalayas, it can be reached only by an uphill trek or helicopter service. The Kedarnath Temple, believed to be built by the Pandavas and revived by Adi Shankaracharya, stands as a symbol of unwavering faith and devotion. Surrounded by towering snow-covered peaks, glaciers, and pristine natural beauty, Kedarnath offers a divine and unforgettable spiritual experience.

Triyuginarayan

Triyuginarayan is a sacred village known as the divine wedding place of Lord Shiva and Goddess Parvati. The eternal flame that witnessed their marriage—called Akhand Dhuni—still burns in the temple courtyard, making it a deeply auspicious spot for devotees. Located near Sonprayag, the village offers breathtaking Himalayan views and holds immense significance for couples seeking marital blessings.

Ukhimath

Ukhimath is the winter seat of Lord Kedarnath and Madhyamaheshwar, where their idols are worshipped when snow blocks access to the higher Himalayan shrines. Nestled amid dense forests and stunning mountain views, Ukhimath is also home to several ancient temples dedicated to Lord Shiva, Goddess Parvati, and other deities. The town offers a peaceful environment and serves as an important cultural and religious centre in the region.

Badrinath

Badrinath, one of the Char Dham and Chota Char Dham pilgrimage sites, is dedicated to Lord Vishnu. Located between the Nar and Narayan mountain ranges at an altitude of 3,300 metres, the Badrinath Temple is renowned for its vibrant architecture and deep spiritual importance. Legend says Lord Vishnu meditated here for thousands of years, protected by Goddess Lakshmi in the form of a Badri tree. The area is also famous for its hot water springs (Tapt Kund), scenic riverbanks, and snow-laden peaks.

Mana Village

Mana Village is the last inhabited village of India near the Indo-Tibet border and is located just a few kilometres from Badrinath. Rich in mythology, it features attractions like the Vyas Gufa, where sage Vyas is believed to have written the Mahabharata, and Bheem Pul, a massive stone bridge said to be placed by Bhima for Draupadi. The village offers serene Himalayan beauty, traditional mountain life, and historic charm.

Rudraprayag

Rudraprayag is one of the sacred Panch Prayag (five confluences) in Uttarakhand, where the rivers Alaknanda and Mandakini meet. Named after Lord Shiva, the town holds immense spiritual importance for Char Dham pilgrims. Surrounded by lofty mountains and scenic valleys, Rudraprayag offers a peaceful stopover for travellers en route to Kedarnath and Badrinath. The tranquil environment and mythological significance make it a deeply spiritual destination.
